

Michael Summers

Michael has performed for tens of thousands of people through out his career. In his early years as a bassist / lead singer for rock acts and later as a solo artist. He found his voice for jazz over 20 years ago in Nashville Tennessee.

The works of More came to be from years of redefining and crafting the artist's voice. Finally, with clear head and soul, Michael gives us a new look at Jazz through his music which takes us on an upbeat journey.

By using the jazz classics as a roadmap, he crafted new material while adding his own passions. More is symbolic in many ways in that in it he reaches for the connections to a life made richer through the connections we make with people.

“ The real power of existance are the memories you make, and the practice of all of the virtues...and all the love you create”

(quoted from the song “From Here” off the Nashville Sessions) by Michael Summers

“I’m thinking, “Why aren’t there more artists like this - singing songs like this? We seem to get one every decade. Harry Conick Jr. in 90’s, Michael Buble in the 2000’s, and now Michael Summers up to bat for this century’s teen years. The difference with Michael, is many of his songs are ‘standard-like’ originals.
